What is Feng Shui?

Feng Shui means wind and water. Feng Shui is an exact science whose practice significantly to the remote 5000 years. Thus, it is used to define the layout of the spaces around you, whether indoors or outdoors and it requires discipline and precision, and that make it an art.

The first recorded use of "Lou Pan" (compass) dating from 2700 BC, by the Yellow Emperor of China and it had been used and improved over millennia up to date.

Good Feng Shui reflects the proper balance of yin and yang energy, while ensuring harmony between the five elements of nature: earth, fire, air, water and metal which that compose the universe in which we live.

How can you use Feng Shui in your life?

Feng Shui does not change your faith or your destination, but it can change the impact of problems in your life, making them softer.

Feng Shui brings more abundance and prosperity, health, harmony, influential friends, dissolves envy and protects you against "gossip".

Today Feng Shui is used in various ways, eg in the construction and refurbishment of infrastructures, personal life and work environment.

For each abnormality found in your environment inside, outside or in your personal life, Feng Shui allows you, through "amulets" correct or eliminate "poison arrows" making you gain full access to your fame, romance, career, education, health and abundance.

Personalized Feng Shui readings for your house

The personalizes Feng Shui reading will be delivered in a report that's include:

- Your KUA number
- Feng Shui rituals to overcome obstacles
- Individual Eighth Mansions analysis
- Flying Star Natal Chart analysis for your home
- Annual remedies and enhancers for good luck in the present year

ITS GONNA BLOW

As part of the 4th Edition of the Festival Kinan, which is a platform for contemporary dance, in which national and international will present their talents, we, the ICMA / Goethe Zentrum Maputo, we invite Dani Brown artist with the piece

ITS GONNA BLOW. Cultural expectations, gender stereotypes and create the main theme of this production in a way that is inspired by television shows like America's Next Super Star, or Germany's Next Top Model. Brown Danielle (Dani Brown) is an American dancer and choreographer based in Hamburg. She and Martha Navaro are co-founders of the collective FINGERSIX. After his excellent performance with THE INVITATION (2008), this choreographic duo is back with IT'S GONNA BLOW. A performance in which three dancers and one actor dissect, naked and crudely, prejudice cultural, gender, and the ideals mediated, beauty, power, scandal, corruption and all that we just FINGERSIX know and recognize the changes, without taboos, a large pool of styles and possibilities of expression. One thing is certain: It will explode! Maybe it's a beauty contest, maybe not. / Perhaps a ontological argument with the meaning of the universe. / Maybe there's meat. / Maybe we know what you think. / Maybe a terrorist attack. / Maybe a night in a brothel. / Paradise now. I Maybe / Maybe not. Approaching the moment, the world now joins us via satellite, between the tranquility is a misleading preparation ... wonder ... curiosity ... excitement! An unsolved mystery, a night like no other, a life-changing experience, live from planet Earth that will be amazing
